Mary Cullen Servodidio Awarded $11,000 Counseling Fellowship From NBCC and Affiliates

Nashville, TN—The NBCC Foundation, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC), recently selected Mary Cullen Servodidio, of Nashville, Tennessee, for the NBCC Minority Fellowship Program-Addictions Counselors (MFP-AC). As an NBCC MFP-AC Fellow, Servodidio will receive funding and training to support her education and facilitate her addictions counseling service to underserved minority transition-age youth (ages 16–25).

The NBCC MFP-AC is made possible by a grant awarded to NBCC by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) in September 2014. The Foundation is contracted by NBCC to administer the NBCC MFP-AC, as well as training and collaboration activities, such as webinars, that are open to all National Certified Counselors (NCCs). The goal of the program is to reduce health disparities and improve behavioral health care outcomes for racially and ethnically diverse populations by increasing the available number of culturally competent behavioral health professionals.

The NBCC MFP will distribute up to $11,000 to Servodidio and the 33 other master's-level addictions counseling students selected to receive the fellowship award. Servodidio is a graduate of Belmont University, in Nashville, Tennessee, and is currently a master's student in the clinical mental health counseling program at Western Kentucky University, in Bowling Green. Upon graduation, Servodidio intends to work with transition-age minority youth, particularly those affected by addictions. She hopes to serve the minority, inner-city youth of Nashville, Tennessee. She intends to work with not only those individuals who struggle with their own addiction(s) but individuals that have been impacted by parental or familial addiction. Servodidio has a specific interest in eating disorders and working with youth who struggle with this process addiction. Through the receipt of this fellowship, Servodidio is excited to grow as a professional through attending counseling conferences and working with and learning from a network of passionate mental health professionals to better serve her clients.

The NBCC Foundation has also awarded 23 $20,000 doctoral fellowships through the Minority Fellowship Program and 30 $8,000 master's-level fellowships through the MFP-Youth (MFP-Y). The Foundation plans to open the next NBCC MFP-AC application period in fall 2018. To learn more about the NBCC MFP and its fellows, please visit <http://www.nbccf.org/Programs/Fellows>.
