Janelle Lynn Jones Awarded $8,000 Counseling Fellowship From NBCC and Affiliates

Indianapolis, IN—The NBCC Foundation, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC), recently selected Janelle Lynn Jones of Indianapolis, Indiana, for the NBCC Minority Fellowship Program-Youth (MFP-Y). As an NBCC MFP-Y fellow, Jones will receive funding and training to support her education and facilitate her service to underserved minority populations, with a specific focus on transition-age youth (ages 16–25).

The NBCC MFP-Y is made possible by a grant awarded to NBCC by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) in September 2014. The Foundation is contracted by NBCC to administer the NBCC MFP-Y, as well as training and collaboration activities, such as webinars, that are open to all National Certified Counselors (NCCs). The goal of the program is to reduce health disparities and improve behavioral health care outcomes for racially and ethnically diverse populations by increasing the number of available culturally competent behavioral health professionals.

The NBCC MFP will distribute $8,000 education awards to Jones and the 29 other master's-level counseling students selected to receive the fellowship award. Jones is a graduate of Indiana University Bloomington and is currently pursuing a master's in the clinical mental health counseling program at Georgia State University, in Atlanta. Upon graduation, Jones intends to continue her studies in a counseling psychology doctoral program. While acquiring clinical supervision hours, Jones would like to work with minority transition-age youth to help break the cycle of stigmas surrounding mental health in minority communities. She would like to continue her work with people who are typically marginalized and counsel those who are further marginalized due to their intersectional minority identities. This fellowship will enable Jones to attend counseling conferences to expand her professional network, apply for various doctoral programs, and conduct clinical outreach in Botswana and South Africa this summer.

The NBCC Foundation has also awarded 23 $20,000 doctoral fellowships through the Minority Fellowship Program and 31 master's-level fellowships of up to $11,000 through the MFP-Addictions Counselors (MFP-AC). The Foundation plans to open the next NBCC MFP-Y application period in September 2017. To learn more about the NBCC MFP and its fellows, please visit www.nbccf.org/Programs/Scholarships.
