Monique J. Daniels Awarded $11,000 Counseling Fellowship From NBCC and Affiliates

Durham, NC—The NBCC Foundation, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC), recently selected Monique J. Daniels, of Durham, North Carolina, for the NBCC Minority Fellowship Program-Addictions Counselors (MFP-AC). As an NBCC MFP-AC fellow, Daniels will receive funding and training to support her education and facilitate her addictions counseling service to underserved minority transition-age youth (ages 16–25).

The NBCC MFP-AC is made possible by a grant awarded to NBCC by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) in September 2014. The Foundation is contracted by NBCC to administer the NBCC MFP-AC, as well as training and collaboration activities, such as webinars, that are open to all National Certified Counselors (NCCs). The goal of the program is to reduce health disparities and improve behavioral health care outcomes for racially and ethnically diverse populations by increasing the available number of culturally competent behavioral health professionals.

The NBCC MFP will distribute up to $11,000 to Daniels and the 17 other master's-level addictions counseling students selected to receive the fellowship award. Daniels is a graduate of Pacifica Graduate Institute, in Carpinteria, California and is both a student and graduate of North Carolina Central University, in Durham, where she is currently pursuing a master's in clinical mental health counseling. Upon graduation, Daniels intends to work with transition-age youth, specifically those dealing with addiction. She is committed to improving the mental health of this underserved population. This fellowship will allow Daniels to attend training and conferences to develop professional and leadership skills that will enable her to make significant contributions to the counseling field.

The NBCC Foundation has also awarded 23 $20,000 doctoral fellowships through the Minority Fellowship Program, 30 $8,000 master's-level fellowships through the MFP-Youth (MFP-Y) program, and 31 additional MFP-AC fellowships this year. The Foundation will open the next NBCC Minority Fellowship Program application period in September 2017.
