Roanna Stroman Awarded $11,000 Counseling Fellowship From NBCC and Affiliates

Atlanta, GA—The NBCC Foundation, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC), recently selected Roanna Stroman, of Atlanta, Georgia, for the NBCC Minority Fellowship Program-Addictions Counselors (MFP-AC). As an NBCC MFP-AC fellow, Stroman will receive funding and training to support her education and facilitate her addictions counseling service to underserved minority transition-age youth (ages 16–25).

The NBCC MFP-AC is made possible by a grant awarded to NBCC by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) in September 2014. The Foundation is contracted by NBCC to administer the NBCC MFP-AC, as well as training and collaboration activities, such as webinars, that are open to all National Certified Counselors (NCCs). The goal of the program is to reduce health disparities and improve behavioral health care outcomes for racially and ethnically diverse populations by increasing the available number of culturally competent behavioral health professionals.

The NBCC MFP will distribute up to $11,000 to Stroman and the 29 other master's-level addictions counseling students selected to receive the fellowship award. Stroman is a graduate of Dillard University, in New Orleans, Louisiana, and is currently a master's student in the clinical mental health counseling program at Argosy University Atlanta, in Georgia. Upon graduation, Stroman intends to work with African-American and Latino transition age-youth to help them overcome life obstacles. Earning this fellowship will allow Stroman to attend professional counseling conferences, develop tools to educate students about mental health and the dangers of substance use and learn and implement modalities to better serve underserved populations. Her goals are to diminish inequalities on an individual and societal level and to advocate for the counseling profession.

The Foundation plans to open the next NBCC MFP-AC application period in September 2016. To learn more about the NBCC MFP and its fellows, please visit www.nbccf.org.
