Ebrahim Mansaray Awarded $15,000 Counseling Fellowship From the NBCC Foundation

Greensboro, NC—The NBCC Foundation, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC), recently selected Ebrahim Mansaray, of Greensboro, North Carolina, for the NBCC Minority Fellowship Program for Addictions Counselors (MFP-AC). As an NBCC MFP-AC Fellow, Mansaray will receive funding and training to support his education and facilitate his addictions counseling service to underserved populations.

The NBCC MFP-AC is made possible by a grant awarded to the NBCC Foundation in collaboration with the Association for Addiction Professionals (NAADAC) by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA). The NBCC Foundation administers the MFP-AC, including training and collaboration activities, such as webinars, that are open to all board certified counselors. The goal of the program is to reduce health disparities and improve behavioral health care outcomes for racially and ethnically diverse populations by increasing the available number of culturally competent behavioral health professionals.

The NBCC Foundation will distribute $15,000 to Mansaray and the other 39 master's-level addictions counseling students selected to receive the fellowship award. Mansaray is a graduate of the University of Maryland College Park and is currently a master's student in the mental health and rehabilitation counseling program at North Carolina A&T State University. Upon graduation, Mansaray plans to work with individuals with disabilities, including those dealing with addiction. Specifically, he would like to work with people with disabilities who identify as sexual and gender minorities, racial and ethnic minorities, immigrants, first- and second-generation Americans with disabilities, and individuals who simultaneously belong to these or other marginalized groups. He would also like to participate in research highlighting issues these particular groups face that need to be addressed in the fields of counseling and public health. Earning this fellowship will allow Mansaray to formulate a stronger professional identity as a counselor and learn evidence-based practices to better serve and advocate for underserved groups as a counselor.

The NBCC Foundation has also awarded 20 $20,000 doctoral fellowships through the MFP and 30 $10,000 master's-level fellowships through the MFP-Mental Health Counseling-Master's (MFP-MHC-M). The NBCC Foundation plans to open the next NBCC MFP-AC application period in fall 2020. To learn more about the NBCC MFP and its fellows, please visit nbccf.org/Programs/Fellows.
