Patricia Saye Awarded $10,000 Counseling Fellowship From the NBCC Foundation

Lancaster, PA—The NBCC Foundation, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC), recently selected Patricia Saye of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, for the NBCC Minority Fellowship Program-Mental Health Counseling-Master's (MFP-MHC-M). As an NBCC MFP-MHC-M Fellow, Saye will receive funding and training to support her education and facilitate her service to underserved populations.

The NBCC MFP-MHC-M is made possible by a grant awarded to the NBCC Foundation by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA). The NBCC Foundation administers the MFP-MHC-M, including training and collaboration activities, such as webinars, that are open to all board certified counselors. The goal of the program is to reduce health disparities and improve behavioral health care outcomes for racially and ethnically diverse populations by increasing the number of professional counselors providing effective, culturally competent services to underserved populations.

The NBCC Foundation will distribute $10,000 to Saye and the other 29 master's-level counseling students selected to receive the fellowship award. Saye is a graduate of Capital University and is currently enrolled at Louisiana State University, where she is pursuing a master's degree in the clinical mental health and school counseling program. Upon graduation, Saye intends to work with minority children and adolescents in school and community settings. She is particularly interested in working with youth from marginalized communities, where access to mental health resources is often more difficult to obtain. During her fellowship year, Saye will continue to further develop her counseling skills by participating in professional development opportunities and embracing evidence-based practices. Saye is grateful for this opportunity and believes it will cultivate tremendous professional growth. She looks forward to advocating for future clients as a mental health professional.

The NBCC Foundation has also awarded 20 $20,000 doctoral fellowships through the MFP and 40 master's-level fellowships of $15,000 through the MFP for Addictions Counselors (MFP-AC). The NBCC Foundation plans to open the next NBCC MFP-MHC-M application period in fall 2020. To learn more about the NBCC MFP and its fellows, please visit nbccf.org/Programs/Fellows.
