Andrew C. McGinn Receives Rural Scholarship From the NBCC Foundation

Jefferson, IA—The NBCC Foundation, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors, Inc. (NBCC), recently awarded an $8,000 NBCC Foundation rural scholarship to Andrew C. McGinn, of Jefferson, Iowa. The rural scholarship is awarded to master’s-level counseling students who are from rural communities and commit to practicing in rural areas upon graduation.

The mission of the NBCC Foundation is to leverage the power of counseling by strategically focusing resources for positive change. The Foundation created the rural scholarship in 2009 to improve access to counseling services in rural communities, which suffer disproportionately from a lack of mental health care. The NBCC Foundation awarded six $8,000 rural scholarships for the 2020–2021 award year.

As a rural scholarship recipient, McGinn will receive $8,000 to support his counseling education and recognize his commitment to underserved communities. McGinn is a graduate of Morningside College and is currently a master’s student in the clinical mental health counseling program at Bradley University. Following graduation, McGinn hopes to normalize counseling in a place where stigma still persists. Born and raised in rural Iowa, he hopes to enact change from the inside out. As a newspaper reporter for more than two decades, McGinn is also uniquely qualified to advocate for the counseling profession and on behalf of marginalized people. Earning this scholarship will allow McGinn to establish a stronger professional identity as a counselor, and, frankly, it eases his mind a little about going back to school after 20 years and assuming more student debt!

The NBCC Foundation has also awarded six $8,000 military scholarships to increase the number of counselors serving fellow military personnel, veterans, and their families. The Foundation plans to continue offering scholarships to increase the number of counselors in the areas where they are needed most and will open the next application period in spring 2021. Through the NBCC Foundation scholarship programs, over $860,000 has been awarded to over 200 counseling students working to provide effective, culturally competent services to underserved populations.
