Abigail E. Solis Awarded $15,000 Counseling Fellowship From NBCC and Affiliates

Colorado Springs, CO—The NBCC Foundation, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC), recently selected Abigail E. Solis, of Colorado Springs, Colorado, for the NBCC Minority Fellowship Program-Addictions Counselors (MFP-AC). As an NBCC MFP-AC Fellow, Solis will receive funding and training to support her education and facilitate her addictions counseling service to underserved minority populations.

The NBCC MFP-AC is made possible by a grant awarded to the NBCC Foundation in collaboration with the Association for Addiction Professionals (NAADAC) by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA). The Foundation administers the MFP-AC, including training and collaboration activities, such as webinars, that are open to all National Certified Counselors (NCCs). The goal of the program is to reduce health disparities and improve behavioral health care outcomes for racially and ethnically diverse populations by increasing the available number of culturally competent behavioral health professionals.

The NBCC Foundation MFP will distribute up to $15,000 to Solis and the other 39 master's-level addictions counseling students selected to receive the fellowship award. Solis is a graduate of The University of Texas at El Paso, and is currently a master's student in the clinical mental health counseling program at the University of Colorado, in Colorado Springs. Upon graduation, Solis intends to work with military-connected families, predominantly those suffering from substance abuse dependency, other forms of addiction, and mental health issues. Solis intends on utilizing her work and personal experience with military-connected families to tailor counseling therapy and treatments to serve this population. Through advocacy and education, she hopes to help alleviate mental health stigma found within the military culture. Through this fellowship, Solis will be able to further develop her professional identity as a counselor by attending counseling conferences in which she will learn evidence-based practices to better serve military-connected families.

The NBCC Foundation has also awarded 20 $20,000 doctoral fellowships through the Minority Fellowship Program and 30 $10,000 master's-level fellowships through the MFP-Mental Health Counseling-Master's (MFP-MHC-M). The Foundation plans to open the next NBCC MFP-AC application period in fall 2019. To learn more about the NBCC MFP and its fellows, please visit <http://www.nbccf.org/Programs/Fellows>.
