Jasmine Kiana Wiggins Awarded $10,000 Counseling Fellowship From NBCC and Affiliates

Greenville, NC—The NBCC Foundation, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC), recently selected Jasmine Kiana Wiggins of Greenville, North Carolina, for the NBCC Minority Fellowship Program Mental Health Counseling-Master’s (MFP-MHC-M). As an NBCC MFP-MHC-M Fellow, Wiggins will receive funding and training to support her education and facilitate her service to underserved minority populations.

The NBCC MFP-MHC-M is made possible by a grant awarded to the NBCC Foundation by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA). The Foundation administers the MFP, including training and collaboration activities, such as webinars, that are open to all National Certified Counselors (NCCs). The goal of the program is to reduce health disparities and improve behavioral health care outcomes for racially and ethnically diverse populations by increasing the number of available culturally competent behavioral health professionals.

The NBCC Foundation MFP will distribute up to $10,000 to Wiggins and the other 29 master’s-level counseling students selected to receive the fellowship award. Wiggins is a graduate of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and is currently a master’s student in the school counseling program at North Carolina State University, in Raleigh. Upon graduation, Wiggins intends to work with children and adolescents as a school counselor in the Raleigh-Durham area. She would also like to work with children and adolescents, especially transition-age youth in a clinical setting as she pursues her LPC. This fellowship will allow Wiggins to attend counseling conferences and trainings that will ultimately help her better serve one of the most vulnerable populations, children.

The NBCC Foundation has also awarded 20 $20,000 doctoral fellowships through the Minority Fellowship Program and 40 master’s-level fellowships of $15,000 through the MFP-Addictions Counselors (MFP-AC). The Foundation plans to open the next NBCC MHC-M application period in fall 2019. To learn more about the NBCC MFP and its fellows, please visit <http://www.nbccf.org/Programs/Fellows>.
