Jeanneka E Black Awarded $10,000 Counseling Fellowship From NBCC and Affiliates

Marion, AR—The NBCC Foundation, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC), recently selected Jeanneka E Black of Marion, Arkansas, for the NBCC Minority Fellowship Program Mental Health Counseling-Master’s (MFP-MHC-M). As an NBCC MFP-MHC-M Fellow, Black will receive funding and training to support her education and facilitate her service to underserved minority populations.

The NBCC MFP-MHC-M is made possible by a grant awarded to the NBCC Foundation by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA). The Foundation administers the MFP, including training and collaboration activities, such as webinars, that are open to all National Certified Counselors (NCCs). The goal of the program is to reduce health disparities and improve behavioral health care outcomes for racially and ethnically diverse populations by increasing the number of available culturally competent behavioral health professionals.

The NBCC Foundation MFP will distribute up to $10,000 to Black and the other 29 master’s-level counseling students selected to receive the fellowship award. Black is a graduate of the University of Central Arkansas, in Conway, and is currently a master’s student in the clinical mental health counseling program at the University of Memphis, in Tennessee. Upon graduation, Black intends to work with children and adolescents that are exposed to toxic stressors, such as domestic violence, financial instability, physical/emotional abuse, and/or mental health issues. She plans to become a skilled counselor that works alongside other professionals to improve the overall quality of a community (especially impoverished and urban environments). The fellowship will equip Black with evidence-based practices, resources, and information for her to become a better advocate, researcher, and educator through her attendance of counseling conferences and connections with other professionals.

The NBCC Foundation has also awarded 20 $20,000 doctoral fellowships through the Minority Fellowship Program and 40 master’s-level fellowships of $15,000 through the MFP-Addictions Counselors (MFP-AC). The Foundation plans to open the next NBCC MHC-M application period in fall 2019. To learn more about the NBCC MFP and its fellows, please visit <http://www.nbccf.org/Programs/Fellows>.

About the NBCC Foundation
