Kimberly Ann Lewis Awarded $15,000 Counseling Fellowship From NBCC and Affiliates

Cleveland, OH—The NBCC Foundation, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC), recently selected Kimberly Ann Lewis, of Cleveland, Ohio, for the NBCC Minority Fellowship Program-Addictions Counselors (MFP-AC). As an NBCC MFP-AC Fellow, Lewis will receive funding and training to support her education and facilitate her addictions counseling service to underserved minority populations.

The NBCC MFP-AC is made possible by a grant awarded to the NBCC Foundation in collaboration with the Association for Addiction Professionals (NAADAC) by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA). The Foundation administers the MFP-AC, including training and collaboration activities, such as webinars, that are open to all National Certified Counselors (NCCs). The goal of the program is to reduce health disparities and improve behavioral health care outcomes for racially and ethnically diverse populations by increasing the available number of culturally competent behavioral health professionals.

The NBCC Foundation MFP will distribute up to $15,000 to Lewis and the other 39 master's-level addictions counseling students selected to receive the fellowship award. Lewis is a graduate of South University, in Warrensville Heights, Ohio, and is currently a master's student in the clinical mental health counseling program at John Carroll University, in University Heights, Ohio. Lewis wants to work with vulnerable and underserved minority communities. She wants to be a part of reducing health disparities and improving the overall health and well-being of minority persons, including gender and sexual orientation minorities. Earning this fellowship has encouraged Lewis to pursue her PhD in advanced studies in human behavior and will help her pay for her graduate degree.

The NBCC Foundation has also awarded 20 $20,000 doctoral fellowships through the Minority Fellowship Program and 30 $10,000 master's-level fellowships through the MFP-Mental Health Counseling-Master's (MFP-MHC-M). The Foundation plans to open the next NBCC MFP-AC application period in fall 2019. To learn more about the NBCC MFP and its fellows, please visit <http://www.nbccf.org/Programs/Fellows>.
