Sandi Timmer Awarded $11,000 Counseling Fellowship From NBCC and Affiliates

Boulder Creek, CA—The NBCC Foundation, an affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC), recently selected Sandi Timmer, of Boulder Creek, California, for the NBCC Minority Fellowship Program-Addictions Counselors (MFP-AC). As an NBCC MFP-AC Fellow, Timmer will receive funding and training to support her education and facilitate her addictions counseling service to underserved minority transition-age youth (ages 16–25).

The NBCC MFP-AC is made possible by a grant awarded to NBCC by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) in September 2014. The Foundation is contracted by NBCC to administer the NBCC MFP-AC, as well as training and collaboration activities, such as webinars, that are open to all National Certified Counselors (NCCs). The goal of the program is to reduce health disparities and improve behavioral health care outcomes for racially and ethnically diverse populations by increasing the available number of culturally competent behavioral health professionals.

The NBCC MFP will distribute up to $11,000 to Timmer and the 33 other master’s-level addictions counseling students selected to receive the fellowship award. Timmer is a graduate of Liberty University, in Lynchburg, Virginia, and is currently a master’s student in the counseling program at Palo Alto University, in California. Upon graduation, Timmer plans to serve minority transition-aged youth who are dealing with addiction. She is passionate about helping this community because she believes that recovery is a goal worth aiming for. To improve mental health care, and to reduce disparities in this population, young adults and adolescents need support and positive guidance during the healing process. She would like to be part of helping this underserved population achieve freedom from addiction while learning to be a culturally competent counselor to this community.

The NBCC Foundation has also awarded 23 $20,000 doctoral fellowships through the Minority Fellowship Program and 30 $8,000 master’s-level fellowships through the MFP-Youth (MFP-Y). The Foundation plans to open the next NBCC MFP-AC application period in fall 2018. To learn more about the NBCC MFP and its fellows, please visit <http://www.nbccf.org/Programs/Fellows>.

ABOUT THE NBCC FOUNDATION

The NBCC Foundation is the nonprofit affiliate of the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC), based in Greensboro, North Carolina. NBCC is the nation’s premier professional certification board devoted to credentialing counselors who meet standards for the general and specialty practices of professional counseling.
